
Login and Registration Problems - SOLVED

Posted by admin - 2008/01/02 21:16

Thanks to all who have e-mailed us with the login and resgistration problems.

A small number of user accounts did not migrate to the new site. We ask you first to attempt to login. If that does not work, please try to re-register using the registration link on the bar above.

Registration has not been possible until now as the security image was not showing on re registration page. This has now been solved and the image should be showing.

If you have any problems please e-mail us or click the contact us link at the top of the page.

=====

Re:Login and Registration Problems - SOLVED

Posted by pykey05 - 2008/01/04 22:13

Ben and co i can log in but is the site still a wee slow? sorry to complain and good luck

=====

Re:Login and Registration Problems - SOLVED

Posted by GSRon - 2008/01/04 23:56

I agree, it is VERY slow to get the main page, then it is ok, speed wise. Took several minutes for the main page to appear today...

But, I logged in just fine.!

Cheers..!!!

Ron

=====

Re:Login and Registration Problems - SOLVED

Posted by admin - 2008/01/05 01:41

It depends how fast your connection is. Certainly best viewed with broadband. Although, with any connection, page loads should not be 2 minutes - let us know if that persists.

Note that the site waits for the whole of the page to load before displaying rather than loading up in front of your eyes. We thought this would be better.

We'll do what we can to improve speed and things should get faster after you have surfed the whole site for a couple of weeks.

It is slightly slower than the old site and always will be. This is because the workings behind this version are, at best, complicated.

=====