Just the one post and this so far naebrain.

Just wondered why you took the trouble to diss someone over such a fantastic result ...and what a race it was which is where I'd hoped this thread was going.

Did like your spelling of "amateur" though... perhaps that's what you meant! Still, after 73 posts keep at it.

Ok, so he has talent....does it mean he has to be an arrogant wee shite, like Lewis Hamilton..?

Yes some may see JR as 'arrogant'but I think if any of us had an ounce of the ability and self belief the lad has , we to may come across arrogant. As for giving the fans what they want, he just won a world championship race, flew our wee contries' flag and spent most of the interview thanking everyone for putting him on the top step. Im a fan!!:ohmy:

Well said wacey. Obviously corerrep wasn't at mondello when jr won his first bsb race. The roars from the crowd every time he made pass was unreal and when he took the chequered flag the atmosphere was electric. If that wasn't endearing i'm puzzled. As for arrogant, what has he ever done or said that could be conceived as arrogant.

If he was to use the same language as corserep to describe people he could be called rude, crude or even down right ignorant but thankfully he doesn't. All i can say is god help james mccann's fan club with a front man like you know who!

Which part of the thread did he miss out on. O yes, was it the part where you started to back pedal after you realised you had made a complete ASS of yourself. I don't think kylemalco missed anything. I reckon he is spot on.

Anytime I have seen or read his interviews he seems to come across as straight talking and honest which is very refreshing in todays sporting world!

Up to 5th in the championship now; only 8 points off 3rd. All the best to him for the rest of the season.

Ahh....there's nothing i like to see more than a nice wee happy forum!!! I don't know what's more enjoyable . . watching JR smoke the rest of the WSS grid or reading the dribble on this forum.

JR's win is a major step in his WSS career and it will do wonders for him heading into the two british rounds!!

Don't really think it's fair to call the guy arrogant . . .he says it how it is and that's the way it should be!

Cowan was a legend and Jezza was the daddy on a 250 but i think JR has the edge now taking into consideration his age and the fact that he's just smoked the world's best 600 riders!!

Have to go now cos gilpin has just arrived lookin to use my grinder on his knee sliders!!!!

mr mamola was awesome to watch on that cagiva,he was on pirelli,s at that particular time,and if im not mistaken alex Barros,ron haslam or/and doug chandler were also riding cagivas ! they were a gawjuss bit of kit, i watched eddie lawson throw one on it,s side half way down craner curves and total one at brit gp in early 90,s !still the nicest 500 i ever seen. pity i didnt see randy doing that in ballyeaston though,im sure staffy had his front door shut,what wi the rubber and 4 pipes spurting out elf and 2 stroke oil.

well it means when the bladder is full alcohol and it begins to get painfull if not dealt with rapidly or an embaressing damp patch appears,a bit like when psycho is watching re-runs of assen and brno wss races,or when he buys the belfast saturday night papers to see the results from that days racing(as he doenst go to any races over here except mondello bsb or nw 200)and the term pish at staffys means 4 grown men standing aiming there john thomas,s at a trough fu o savlon :unsure:

Spoke to Steven Watson and he said the bbc did not think it was appropriate to cover the story due to the tragic death of Graig Jones, but said there will be a big spread very shortly with Jonathan. Possibly utv thought the same.
